

6670: HOMEBOUND INSTRUCTION

Homebound instruction in a student's home or in a local hospital and under the supervision of a responsible adult may be provided when the student is ill, injured, or has a documented medical condition and is unable to attend regular classes for an extended period of time. Homebound instruction shall only be provided when the student's illness, injury, or documented medical condition is such that the student can benefit from instruction and no other provision will meet the student's educational needs.
